CHANDLER WINS NOMINATION FOR GOVERNOR

Combs Carries Letcher County by 538 Votes

Chandler Wins State by Some 20,000 Majority

A. B. (Happy) Chandler

INTEREST HIGH IN QUIET COUNTY ELECTION — VOTING HEAVY

In the August Primary everything went according to schedule and as we predicted Judge Bert T. Combs won the county by 538 votes. A. B. "Happy" Chandler won the State-wide Democratic nomination, for Governor, and Edwin R. Denny won the Republican nomination.

On the local scene Harry M. Caudill won for State Representative on the Democratic ticket by approximately 150 votes, runner-up being Claude Collins.

For State Senator M. B. "Tug" Fields won the Democratic nomination for State Senator, however Leon P. Webb carried Letcher County by a huge majority. Gene Baker, the Republican Candidate had no opposition neither did Emil Clay, who was nominated without opposition on the Republican ticket, for State Representative.

The election, while one of the hottest contests we have seen in the past decade, went off quietly and with little fan-fare after Friday night's final last-minute shuffling, and finagling took place, with the usual "going-among-them" on the eve of the election. However, not many 11th hour changes were made and as we said before, it went pretty much to our predictions.

More than 5,000 Democratic votes were cast in the county; The Republicans cast 1331 votes.

Edwin R. Denny received 1102 votes to James L. Clay's 2209 for the Republican nomination for Governor.

In the race for Judge of the Court of Appeals, Astor Hogg received 758 votes, while his opponent Robert B. Bird received 376.

The annual Blair Reunion will be held, Sunday, August 21 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Blair, on the Hotspot, U.Z. road below Whitesburg.

In the United States today cancer kills more children between the ages of 3 and 15 than any other disease, the American Cancer Society reports.

ASTOR CAUDILL WINS FOR CONSTABLE

In the race for Constable in Dist. No. 5, Astor Caudill has been declared the winner on the Democratic ticket. He will be opposed in the final by Bob Sizemore who had no opposition on the Republican ticket.

Waterfield Carries Letcher County

Harry Lee Waterfield, of Clinton, Ky., won the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor. He was a strong supporter of A. B. (Happy) Chandler, winner of the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Waterfield carried Letcher county by 272 votes.

12 Escape Death As Truck Overtakes

Hazard, Ky., Aug. 6 — One man was killed and 12 other persons narrowly escaped death yesterday when a car and a pickup truck carrying miners home from work collided.

State police identified the dead man as Nora Stidham, 55, Breedings Creek.

Officers said the accident occurred near Cody, in Knott County, across the Perry County line.

A car driven by Mrs. Juanita Slone, 25, of Letcher County, attempted to pass the truck in which the miners, employees of the Bradley Breeding Coal Company, were riding, officers said.

State police said the car hooked onto the truck, forcing it into a utility pole. The truck then went over an embankment, overturning and throwing the men from their seats.

The car overturned in a creek. The accident occurred during a severe rainstorm.

Listed in serious condition at a Hazard hospital are Pat Collins, 30, and Charles Coroner, 30, Breedings Creek; Doc Sergeant, 56, Red Fox, and Gayrazier, 36, Jeremiah.

Other less seriously injured are:

Townsend Breeding, 60, and her three sons, Earl, 26, Lincoln, 21, and Bradley, 35; Esbern Sexton, 43; James M. Hensley, 24, all of Isom, Letcher County.

Mrs. Sloan and another unidentified occupant in her car were taken to Seco, Ky., for hospital treatment.

Bradley Breeding and his father were riding in the cab of the truck.

W'burg Lunchroom Being Renovated

According to information received from Mrs. W. B. Hall of the County Superintendent's office this week, the Whitesburg Lunchroom is getting a complete renovation. The old wood floor is being replaced with a gray and tan tile over cement. A complete new paint job for the walls and tables will be done in light gray and ivory. This should add much to the appearance and general lunchroom atmosphere.

Also the new building which was completed last year is being tiled with a beautiful black and green tile to furnish a pleasing background for the green walls.

2 Teenagers Struck by Car Near Hazard

Hazard, Ky., Aug. 8 — Joyce Garrett, 13, was struck and killed by a car while walking along a road near here today.

Lue Thomas, 34, Elwood, Ind., reported driver of the automobile, was arrested and charged with voluntary manslaughter and drunken driving.

A companion of Miss Garrett, Mima Bush, 16, was hospitalized with a broken tendon and cuts. Her condition was not considered serious.

State Police Detective J. E. Combs said the auto, after striking the girls, skidded about 100 feet along the road shoulder and plunged into a field.

Combs said Thomas jumped out of the car and climbed a hill, where State Police arrested him.

Combs quoted Thomas as saying, "I couldn't help it," and contended that another car forced him off his side of the road.

Not enough to go around!

THE QUESTION MARKS ON OUR SCHOOLS

A number of very pertinent questions should be answered by our County School Superintendent and Board of Education. So long as they remain unanswered they give rise to the suspicion that our schools are operated for political gain rather than for the education of our children.

We cannot understand the reluctance of our school authorities to give Letcher County tax-payers a complete financial statement showing how their money is being spent. What misdeeds or mismanagement would be revealed by such a statement?

We are informed that Mr. Goebel Adams, the book clerk, is paid $325.00 per month for twelve months yearly. Most teachers earn only about $200.00 per month for nine months. Why should this clerk be paid $125.00 more per month for stacking books and shuffling papers than a hard-working class room teacher? Is he being paid for services rendered the schools or for political services rendered the Superintendent? What does he do to the books in the summertime?

About a year ago the County Board set a large number of men to work at Hallie building a consolidated grade-school. Immediately after the November election the work was stopped. Competent lawyers tell us this project was entirely illegal and that under Kentucky law all such buildings must be built by contractors who have submitted the lowest bids, duly sealed. We believe $20,000.00 or more has been illegally spent in this way. Was this work done and money spent for the purpose of providing class rooms for the children or for the purpose of obtaining the votes of the parents for a favored candidate for the board?

If the money was illegally spent are the board members who voted for the project willing to repay it out of their pockets? We are informed that they are liable in such a case.

Why is the colored school at Fleming being built? Has not the Supreme Court ruled that segregated schools are unconstitutional? Is it possible that money for this project is being wasted for the political purpose of convincing the white voters of Fleming that the board tried to avoid integration?

Is the school at Tolson Branch being closed during the 1955-56 term, and if so, why? What is being done to reduce truancy? What is being done to replace our fire-trap High School Building at Whitesburg? The useless salaries of political pets would go a long way toward financing a new and modern building that is so badly needed?

Is it true that no money is available this year for repairs?

What was done with the $56,000 surplus on hand in July, 1954?

Why was a teacher living in Neon assigned to a Goose Creek school this year? Why was a teacher living on Goose Creek assigned to a Neon school this year? Were they sent away from their home districts as political punishment?

These and many other questions ought to be answered. Come, come, folks, give us the facts. If you will give us the truth we will be happy to print it. Until you make your positions clear a number of ugly black question marks will lie like a cloud over our schools.

serve Letcher County Schools with the best that is in them. Some of the good old CERTIFIED servants are left out because they don't belong to the TEAM.

I surely would not want a child of mine in a class room under a teacher who had left her husband for a young lover, but returned in time to enter the newest school in the county to influence our young minds. May God help all of us to be as bold as lions!

—A TEACHER.

A teacher sends us a copy of letter mailed to teachers throughout the state by Supt. of Public Instruction, Wendell P. Butler, and no doubt at taxpayers' expense and no doubt amounting to many thousands of dollars. A part of the letter reads:

1. "Contact five parents and ask each one to make ten telephone calls for Judge Bert Combs for governor."

2. "Hold one organizational meeting with teachers and parents in your community—see that every one has a job to do on election day."

3. "Resolve to influence two votes for Judge Combs in addition to your own vote."

We wonder just how much of the school funds went to buy and influence votes?

It is high time citizens and especially teachers of our state wake up.

THE MAN AT MOREHEAD COLLEGE

(The following editorial appeared in The Licking Valley Courier, West Liberty, Ky., July 28, 1955.)

Versatility well becomes any personage, but when a great many talents, or abilities, are inherent in an educator, we can be assured that that man will be more successful in his field for his branching-out. In particular, we are referring to Dr. Adron, president of Morehead State College.

This man—we have discovered—is a consecrated man, and by that we mean a man of God. This feature, above all, will assure his success at Morehead. When a college president can teach, preach and lead from the heart as well as from the head, he is sure to influence a vast number of people, and especially students.

This man is a learned man. His degrees are plural, yet they are not too obvious. His ability to converse in "little words with big meanings" keeps him in contact with his fellowman.

He is a modest man, never failing to let it be known that he is unworthy of the good things said about him. He truly believes in his unworthiness to accept praise that is accorded him, and in this belief makes himself humble—a characteristic that is all too rare among leaders.

He is a statesman. His concern over problems that might beset his college keeps him in constant watchfulness. Of integration he says, in content, "It is a state that should gradually work itself into our colleges. This way it will be more readily accepted by the public, than would be a sudden forcing of the issue. I think most people are becoming aware of the progress of integration, and I would not be surprised if we see integration in our college this Fall."

He is a giving man—giving of his time outside his own college and community in order to get acquainted with the Eastern Kentuckians he hopes to serve through Morehead college; giving of his time to write personal letters to teachers, servicemen and others desiring answers to their educational problems.

He is a speaker, speaking with the color and cadence of old-time orators, but choosing his words with care, sincerity and modesty.

Some of these qualifications of Dr. Adron could hardly be classified as talents, but they are the qualities that will make him succeed and Morehead college continue to progress.

Berea Is Music Lover's Paradise

Berea, Ky., August 10 — Berea is a music lover's paradise these days. Since the opening of Paul Green's delightful new folk drama, Wilderness Road, there is literally nowhere that one can find a comparable selection of haunting old folk melodies, ballads and hymns, done with such distinction. Music Director Rolf Hovey and his chorus and soloists sing no less than seventeen of these old Appalachian favorites, ranging in mood from "Goober Peas" to Jesus Walked this Lonesome Valley" and Paul Green's original "What is the Soul of Man?" Gladys Jameson, folk music authority, has served as music consultant and Gilbert Pirovano as organist.

The Kentucky Music Teachers' Association has selected Berea as the place for a board meeting on August 15. On this occasion, the Music Educators of America will receive a rare recognition, the Berea College Centennial Award for Distinguished Service. Journeying from Michigan to receive the award will be past president Marguerite Hood; and present for the ceremonies will be music educators from all over the state of Kentucky.

Recordings and live performances of Mr. Hovey's chorus have received the highest praise. Thor Johnson, Director of the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra has said of it:

"Certainly the music of this particular production deserves the highest praise. From the stirring strains of 'General Lee's March' through the last choral selection, one is aware of a stirring direction. The selection of the music . . . is certainly the finest . . . One receives the impression of a perfectly-focused production . . . The organ accompaniment plus the instruments used in the battle scenes also add much to the success of the musical score. It is really one of the finest I can imagine . . ."

The Cincinnati Enquirer reports that the choral group, seen and unseen, are excellent. The New York Herald Tribune refers to the singing as "rich and right," and Harriette Arnow, Kentucky-born author, has selected the music as a choice aspect of a magnificent drama.

Conferences Are Scheduled Across State, Aug. 18-24

Ways and means to attract more industry to Kentucky communities as part of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce's industrial development program will be featured at four area industrial and business development conferences scheduled across the State, August 18-24.

This announcement was made today by Rexford S. Blazer, Ashland, President of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce.

The location and dates of the conferences, according to Blazer, are: August 18, Madisonville; August 19, Glasgow; August 23, Carter Caves State Park; and August 24, Berea.

The conferences are planned specifically for those citizens who are interested in the industrial progress of their community. The Director of KCC's Industrial Development Department, James C. Zimmerman said that the conference will be divided into two parts, the first will be factual information and proven techniques on how to attract new industry to an area, and the second will be the audiovisual presentation of the Main Street Modernization program together with a discussion on why and how to best develop a community for industrial and business progress.

The area conferences are part of a program of the Industrial Development, Main Street Modernization, and Community Development Committees of the Kentucky Chamber, Zimmerman said.

Chairman of the Industrial Development Committee is Robert M. Watt, Lexington; Main Street Modernization Committee, E. R. Mitchell, Covington; and Community Development Committee, Barney A. Tucker, London. Each Conference will begin at 11 o'clock local time.

Last year about 75,000 Americans were saved from dying of cancer. This figure could have been doubled if every case had been properly treated in time, the American Cancer Society says.

Next Meeting, Tuesday,
Aug. 16.
Speaker — Dr. Sloan.
Subject—Optional.
Absent—Jack, Steve, Lee
and June.

Guests—Mr. Joseph Doney
and Mrs. Doney, Mr. G. R.
Van Gemert and Dr. Jean McGowan, members of the staff of the Memorial Hospital; Arlie Barber, Bobby Picklesimer and Russell
Price. Visiting Rotarians—Gene Rush, Jr., Dewey Polly,
and Harold Wainscott of Pikeville.

Seems we are in the doghouse again—this time with Lewis. Got mad because we were supposed to have called him old (we did nothing of the kind—we didn't think of it) and wouldn't make his speech. However, he brought Leroy Fields as his guest speaker. Leroy gave us a talk on the "hottest" subject in town at present—the proposed sewer system. It was an excellent talk and he certainly did a good job of handling a hot subject. Seems everyone recognizes that something must be done but disagree on how. Anyway
you take it it is a very smelly subject. Thanks Leroy for your talk.

Glad to have the members of the staff of the new hospital with us. Welcome to our town.

Really had a crowd out for the meeting. Only four absentees and two (at least) of them are pretty sure to make up. Should help our August attendance.

Seems the picnic will be at the "swimmin' hole" according to Jimmie — two weeks
from now—August 23. Everybody get set for a good time.

Glad to have Pat back in our midst. Now if we can just get June and Jack all there at the same time maybe we can get organized properly again.

Let's all be present next week and hear from our first president—Preston. His subject is optional but you can be sure he will have something good. How about giving him a 100% meeting.

Lions Talk

Aug. 9, 1955
Lion Forest Brown had charge of last week's program
and it was a very enjoyable affair. Instead of the regular program, he invited all the Lions, their wives, and friends to the swimming pool
for an old-fashioned party.
Everybody seemed to enjoy
it. After the swimming had somewhat subsided refreshments were served.

The attendance committee
seems to be doing a good job
as our attendance last week was almost perfect. We are not going to say anything about the music committee until we see whether or not it will furnish us with a pianist.

Let's all come out Thursday night as Lion Boggs has the program.

Rigsby Appointed Administrator of Hazard Hospital

Washington, D. C. — Larry
C. Rigsby, Cullman, Alabama, has been appointed administrator of the Hazard Memorial Hospital, Hazard, Kentucky, as reported by Dr. Fred D. Mott, Medical Administrator of the Memorial Hospital Association.
This hospital will be completed late this fall and operated by the Association in behalf of beneficiaries of the Welfare and Retirement Fund of the United Mine Workers of America.

Mr. Rigsby joins the organization after establishing an excellent reputation as administrator of the Culman Hospital,
and before that as administrator of the Currey Clinic, Chattanooga, Tennessee. This year, Mrs. Rigsby is vice-president of the Alabama Hospital Association, past president and currently program chairman of the North Alabama Hospital Council, and associate member of Hospital Management's National Advisory Committee on Small

new position as of August 1

Net Income Reported

Co. (Kentucky) today reported its net income of six months ended June 30 declined to $6-

from $6,382,000, or $2.45 a share in the first six months

Lexington Firm To Build Hazard Utility

Hazard, Ky., Aug. 6 — The City of Hazard has agreed to accept a contract with the Mc-Graw Engineering Company of Lexington for construction of a water-filtration plant at a cost of $398,000.

It was stipulated in the agreement, however, that the McGraw company would assign the bid
to another Lexington contractor, J. Henry Hall, who is to execute a performance bond and contract. Hall is required under the agreement to then sublet
the actual construction to Mc-Graw.

This action was taken last night at a special meeting of the Hazard Board of Commissioners, which also adopted a resolution authorizing payment of $5,500 to Kentucky Company, Lexington, as fiscal-agent fee,
and $9,750 to Bankers Bond Company, Louisville, as a compromise settlement of a federal court claim.

These payments, along with the funds to finance the water plant, will come from the sale of waterworks revenue bonds totaling $540,000. The city has arranged to deliver these bonds
when the water-plant contract is signed expected Monday.

The bonds, purchased by Pohl & Company, Cincinnati,
and associates, were issued June 1, but the interest on them
was stopped as of July 1, pending their delivery to the purchaser.

Hazard City Manager Ralph
Wood and Mayor Gene C. Baker started negotiations with the McGraw firm after the original contractor for the job, Campbell & Morgan of Harlan, failed to execute a performance bond
before the August 1 deadline.
This constituted a forfeiture of their bid bond, which the city has set out to collect.

Wood said the arrangement between McGraw and Hall was proposed after the McGraw firm reported it already was heavily bonded on other jobs. The Hall firm, Wood said, could more conveniently execute a performance bond and then let McGraw to the work.

"Wilderness Road" Will Be Presented Again Next Summer

Berea, Ky., August 10 — "Wilderness Road," Berea College's centennial outdoor drama, will be presented again next summer, T. E. Cronk, general manager, announced this week.

Cronk said that the Berea College trustee committee in charge of the play voted to produce it again next year after an increase in attendance indicated that the show would finish in the black by the time of the closing performance
Sept. 5.

Over 20,000 persons have paid
admissions to see "Wilderness Road" to date. The attendance is increasing each week so that by Sept. 5, the show is expected to have played to about 47,000.
There are tickets available for all performances.

Cronk said that about 30 percent of the audience has come from out of state.

losis hospitals had a total patient population of 726 persons ported by Joe D. Miller, executive director of the State Tuberculosis Sanatoria Commission. It received 139 new patients during the month and discharged 137.

During the month the hospital staffs made 1,626 chest
x-rays. Population at the end of June was:

Kentucky C. of C. Holds First Tourist Courtesy School

Turning simple courtesy into dollars will be the theme of the first Tourist Relations School to be held by the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce.

"With the total income from the tourist trade mounting by millions each year, it is necessary that Kentuckians gear themselves to properly handle
this half-billion dollar business," Rexford S. Blazer, Ashland,
President of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce, said, in announcing the Tourist Relations Program.

"Plans for the first Tourist Relations School to be conducted by the State Chamber have been finalized and, according to the schedule, the initial school will be held in Corbin on August 11th," Blazer added. "This school will be for employers and later, if the citizens of the area desire, an additional school will be held for employees."

Not only do we want to brief
all who contact visitors from out of state on courtesy," James Beazley, Louisville, Director of the Chamber's Tourist Department, added, "But we will try to stimulate enough interest in the school to inform the students of the tourist attractions in their particular area of the State. There are many Kentuckians who live adjacent to a tourist attraction and never take time to visit it. We hope to have tours in conjunction with the school in order to inform our students fully on the never-ending attractions of the Bluegrass State."

Cooperating with the State Chamber in the promotion of the first Tourist Relations School are the State Department of Publicity, Scenic Cumberland, Inc., and the University of Kentucky Department of Distributive Education.

U. S. Navy Needs Electronics Techs

The Navy needs applicants who can qualify for training in selected highly specialized fields requiring long term schooling.
Electronics technicians and medical or dental technicians are two of the critical fields of specialized study in which the Navy is guaranteeing technical training to qualified applicants.

During the month of August tests will be given at Recruiting Stations throughout the country
for entrance to Navy Specialty Schools. Applicants must be at least high school graduates. In the electronics program a good grounding in mathematics is highly desirable.

Prior to enlistment, selected applicants are given positive guarantees of assignment to schools upon completion of basic recruit training. Other fields or guaranteed specialized training open to high school graduates but in more limited number include aviation specialties and many technical shipboard trades closely allied to civilian counterparts.

Right now the field is wide open to non-high school graduates to qualify for various training schools of a less technical nature. No specific guarantees are given to the non-graduates other than the choice between seaman and airman ratings.

Locally, tests for the specialty schools and for Navy general service enlistments are available 9 a.m. through 5 p.m. daily (Saturday 9 a.m. till 12 noon)
at the Navy Recruiting Station, Jenkins Office Building, Jenkins, Kentucky. Further information on all programs is available from Benjamin F. Hicks, Chief Petty Officer USN at the above address.

"Another Mountain Industry"

FARM AND 4-H HIGHLIGHTS

by
Ellis Bishop
Asst. County Agent

Alfalfa, undoubtedly, is the most dependable hay crop for Kentucky. With proper management, it lasts several years, producing several (3 to 4) hay crops each year. At least one good crop is almost certain even in years of severe drouth, or ing difficult.

Alfalfa can be grown in any part of the state, where the soil has good underdrainage. Too much free water in the upper two feet of soil is a frequent cause of partial or complete failure of alfalfa stands.

Alfalfa can be grown on run down land by growing a crop of sweet clover ahead of it and turning it under. The sweet clover seed should be inoculated.

In Kentucky, alfalfa may be seeded in August, February, or March. The August seed for Leitchner County is between August 15 and September 1. August seed has the advantage of providing a uniform, weed-free seedbed and especially favorable for inoculation. However, it has a disadvantage of leaving the soil unprotected against erosion. A serious objection on all but level land.

A good seed bed is important. It should be firm, yet the surface should be in condition to provide a small seed covering.

The varieties recommended are Atlantic, Buffalo and Ranger. Sow at the rate of 10 to 12 pounds per acre. Alfalfa grass mixture is better than alfalfa alone. The outstanding advantage of the mixture is the control of erosion. All grass commonly used in Kentucky are satisfactory for sowing with alfalfa.

Before sowing alfalfa, a soil test should be made and fertilizer applied according to the results, of the test.

Lime as a rule, 3 tons of ground limestone per acre is needed. If no soil test is made, apply around 1,000 pounds of 3-12-12 per acre.

Nitrogen is needed to get the alfalfa started. About 20-30 pounds of borax should be applied per acre to supply boron.

On old stands, top dressing should be done by applying 600 pounds of 0-10-20 per year. Borax should be applied in alternate years at the rate of 20-30 pounds.

There are some farmers who have already begun to cut tobacco. Much of this tobacco does not cure properly and after curing, the quality is poor and the leaf is very dark in color.

The tobacco should not be topped until the entire patch is in three-fourth full bloom. The top suckers should be left on the tobacco until 3 to 5 days before cutting.

Quality in tobacco depends much on the degree of maturity or stage of ripeness when the crop is harvested. Ripening starts with the lower leaves and continues up the stalk. The lower leaves sometimes become damaged before the leaves higher on the stalk are ready for harvest. When the lower leaves ripen or start burning, while the rest of the plant is still immature, priming is the solution. The total yield can be increased 10-15% by priming. Priming should be done when the bottom leaves are yellow and while they are still sound. Generally, 3 or 4 leaves are removed at a priming.

By priming, the lower leaves are saved and at the same time, the quality of the tobacco is improved by leaving the tobacco in the patch until it is ripe.

Buyers pay more money for tobacco that is allowed to ripen in the patch. The tobacco is more desirable for use in cigarette and pipe tobacco.

Cutting should not be done until the tobacco show a distinct yellow tinge.

Come into our office and get a leaflet entitled "How to Save Time in Priming Burley Tobacco."

By all means, leave the tobacco until it is ripe. It means more dollars in your pocket.

Important thought to keep in mind:

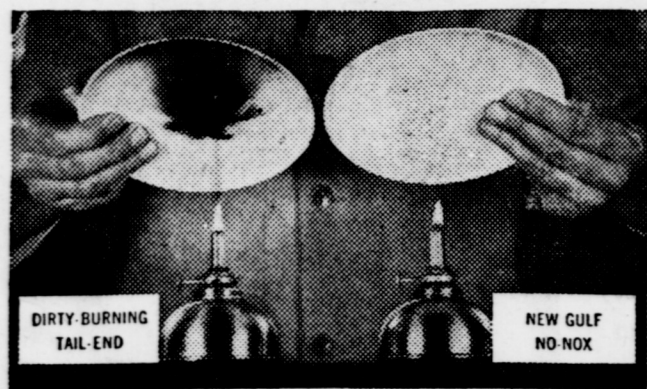

There's no need to worry about stalling in hot-weather traffic; no need to worry about balky hot-engine starting! Just fill up at your Gulf station with New Super-Refined Gulf NO-NOX—the gasoline that's made with evaporation control to prevent vapor-lock. And always protect your engine with New Gulfpride H.D. Select, the motor oil that controls carbon.

New Gulf No-Nox Gasoline delivers not just the highest octane but full working octane... because it's super-refined to burn clean

NO GASOLINE, no matter how high the octane, will let your engine deliver full power performance—mile after mile—unless it burns clean.

That's why it pays to always use new NO-NOX. Gulf NO-NOX is the clean-burning fuel that gives you full working octane day in, day out. In addition, you get...

KINGDOM COME

On Sunday, Aug. 7th as the sun was bursting through the trees, people from all parts of the county were winding their way up the hill to the little cemetery where Uncle John and Aunt Easter Ison and several of their grandchildren are buried. It was such a friendly crowd. Everyone giving an old fashioned hand-shake and a friendly smile. Church services started with several Hymns then followed by some good old-fashioned preaching. Dewey Eldridge held Prayer then followed by Carl Bavk, Cullen Hogg, Emmitt Adams and James Fields. God richly poured out his blessings on each of the preaching brethren. Then the service closed as Cullen Hogg sang out the old song, "Salvation, Oh the Name I Love," with the crowd joining in to help. You could hear it echo to the tops of the hills. Then the crowd departed, each inviting someone home with them for dinner. I'm sure that everyone couldn't help saying, "It was good for us to be here." Services will be held at the same time next year if God's willing. Let's all go to church every time we can for there's no better way to spend the Sabbath Day. God said, "I will be with you even to the end of the earth."

Coal Production Up Over Last Year

Coal production in Kentucky appears to be from 10 to 15 percent above last year, with the total output for the first six months 32,500,000 tons, A. D. Sisk, chief of the Department of Mines and Minerals reported. Meanwhile, Sisk reported that there had been 28 fatalities this year in coal mines, 18 of which were due to falls of roof, while for last year, with less tonnage, there were 31 such fatalities, of which 18 were due to roof falls.

There were seven mine fatalities last month, three each in the Cumberland Valley field and the Big Sandy-Tug River fields and one in the Kentucky River field. Five of these were due to roof falls. There was one fatality in a clay mine, too, in the Lexington district.

The Chief Mine Inspector estimated that "we are producing 1,161,000 tons of coal for each fatality," and added that "if we can maintain this rate throughout 1955 it will be the fifth time in the history of Kentucky coal mining that we have mined in excess of 1,000,000 tons for each fatal accident."

"There is absolutely no reason why we cannot reach a goal of 2,000,000 tons for each fatality because if one studies the record he will soon be convinced that practically all fatalities are of a preventable nature," he continued.

Appealing to miners and operators alike to follow more approved safety practices, Sisk declared that "falls of roof is still the major killer in our coal mines" and despite the national drive being sponsored by federal and state agencies, coal and labor groups "to little progress is being made," toward prevention of roof fall fatalities.

6 Whitley Countians Fined Over $100 for Telephone Fishing

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 8—Fines of $100 plus costs were meted out to six men in Whitley County's Magistrate's Court of Thomas Taylor recently for "illegal fishing by using telephone equipment" in Lake Cumberland. One boat and two motors were confiscated in connection with the case.

Those arrested and fined, according to court records, were: M. H. Dunn and Harry A. Morris, Louisville, and James H. Snyder, L. G. Midkiff, Ernest B. Rose and J. H. Comer, all of Corbin.

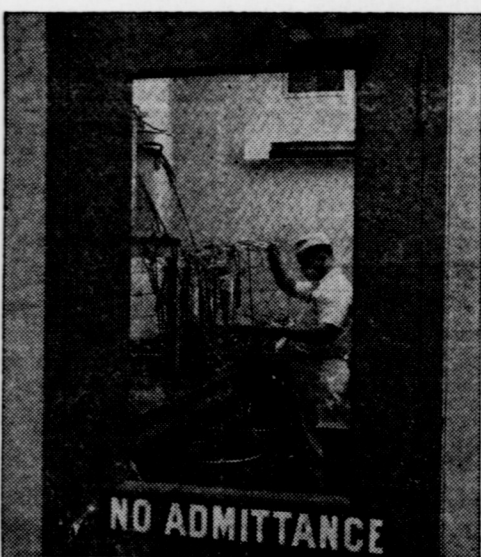

The charge involved what is more commonly called telephone fishing. An electrical charge is sent into the water with the equipment and the fish are stunned. They are then picked up as they float on the surface. The arrests were made on warrants signed by Conservation Officers E. B. Bernard and Marion Key, Jamestown. Value of the boats and motors confiscated was $700 to $800.

Strict Tests Through Every Process Assure Safety of Salk Polio Vaccine

For the first time in history, a vaccine is protecting millions of human beings from paralytic polio. While the Salk vaccine will not work in every case, American children are being safeguarded against the dread disease, with no more risk than they would take in a vaccination against smallpox or a typhoid shot. The Salk vaccine must pass elaborate tests under the watchful eye of a government inspector at every stage of production. Then the final packaged vaccine is approved by the U.S. Public Health Service for distribution. Here are shown a few of the steps that assure American parents their children are being given a safe vaccine.

This technician is filtering dead cells and all other foreign matter from polio virus after it has grown on animal tissue in glass containers.

Virus is "cooked" in tank with formaldehyde (from bottle) until it is rendered harmless, after which it must pass exacting safety tests.

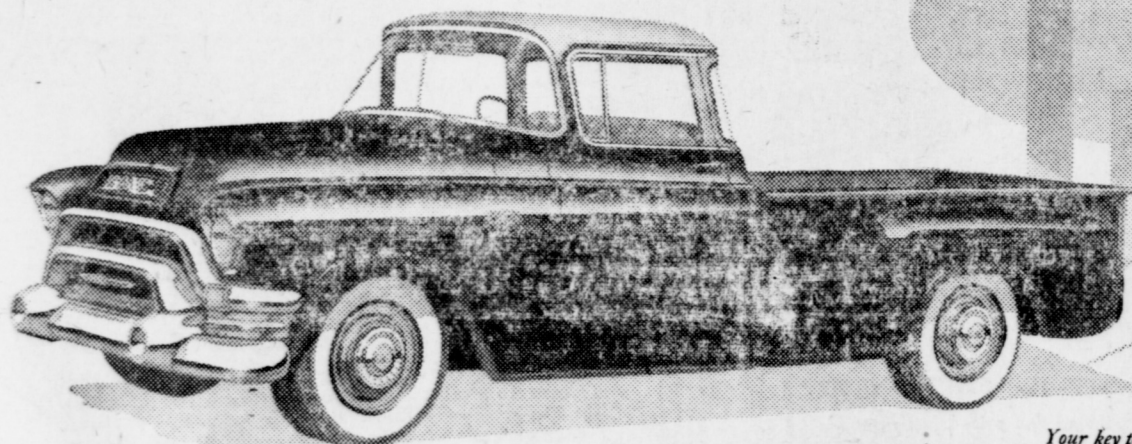

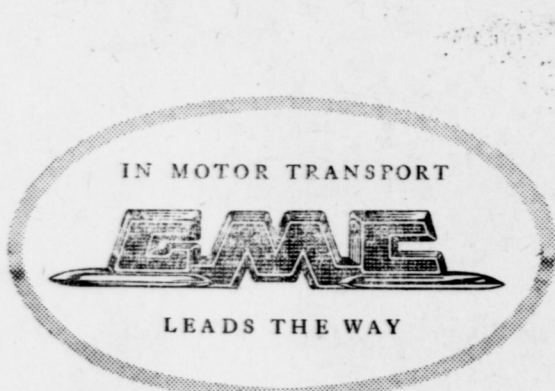

Animal tissue in tubes is inoculated with vaccine and let stand. If any live virus remains, it will multiply here, hence can be detected.

This expert is examining tissue after contact with vaccine, to determine absence of live virus.

It's all over and it didn't hurt a bit! Salk vaccine makes this little girl safer now from paralytic polio. And her parents feel better too!

A Brief History Of The Oven Fork Church

Nearly one hundred and thirty-five years ago when this country was a vast wilderness and the deer and bear roamed at ease, a little band of Baptists who had settled on the head waters of the Cumberland River in what is now Letcher County, and who had migrated from North Carolina and Virginia in search of a better place to live, where they could worship God as they desired and to get away from the persecution of the established form of religion in these colonies, met at the home of Mathias Kelly and there organized themselves into a church and called it the Oven Fork Church from the proximity of a creek by that name.

The members present and ent and who were present and who constituted this church on the 21st day of October, 1820 were James Webb Elder, Wm. Pennington, Wm. Caudill; deacons, Abigail Pennington, Nancy Caudill, Jeremiah Bolling, Mathias Kelly, Zack Morgan, Wm. Jenkins, James Caudill, Henry Back, Rebecca Maggard, Red Pennington, Sarah Bolling, Ann Kelly, Polly Morgan, Elizabeth Jenkins, and Samuel Maggard. These settlers who had cleared out roads and built their log cabin homes had come here to stay. Some were direct from North Carolina, having had their membership in Baptist churches in that state which had been established under the preaching of Daniel Marshall and Shubal Stearns and John Garrard and others who had come from the Ketchikan and Philadelphia Associations, while some of the other settlers had moved in from the Holstein River, Lee County, Virginia, where they had stopped for a while and had formerly lived in the eastern settlements of Virginia where they were members of Baptist churches. Those who had come from the Holstein River section had a visiting preacher occasionally among them by the name of John Flanary. No doubt to these brethren and sisters, after they had settled and started life in the new world, the first desire was to hear preaching and to get together in the solemn worship of God—and perhaps their brother and pastor, John Flanary, of the Deep Springs Church which was in Lee County, Virginia, was invited any way the records do show that he did come and preach among these people and together with Daniel Duff and William Wells of that section they formed the presbytery that constituted that church.

and from churches organized by ministers from the Philadelphia Association. Lewis Craig who established the Old Upper Scottsylvania church north of the James river 1767 the second oldest church in Virginia and who was once confined in jail four weeks for preaching without sanction from the Royal Colony. He stopped on the Holstein River in 1782 with part of his congregation and there established the North Fork of the Holstein Baptist church, and after preaching in that section for a year or so went on into Kentucky where he was a great factor in building of early Baptist churches and Associations.

Another Baptist preacher who had been in the Holstein section was Robert Elkin, who had been pastor of a church in Albemarle County, Virginia, near where Thomas Jefferson lived and who often heard Elkin preach. He too came to southwest Virginia, pastoring for a while the church mentioned above which was constituted by Lewis Craig and others, later moving into Kentucky in what is now Clark County and there helped establish the Providence church.

Some of the members of this Oven Fork church were from the Holstein River section and had often heard both Craig and Elkin preach and were members of their congregations.

The second meeting was held on the fourth Saturday in November 1820 at the home of Mathias Kelly, and shows that they met in full love and fellowship. James Webb was chosen clerk of the church. The church then chose John Flanary as pastor and sent a letter by the following delegates: James Webb and William Pennington to the Deep Springs church, asking that church to grant them part of Bro. Flanary's time to serve them. Another important record of that day's work was, all members should attend regularly, and also, that no member of the church was to take part in any horse races or shooting matches—surely a Baptist Church—requiring its members to live a clean consecrated Christian life. In 1821 the church lettered to the Burning Spring Association by delegates to wit: James Webb and William Pennington. In 1825 she lettered into the New Salem Association which was then organized. And later became a member of the Sandlick Association, which later became the Indian Bottom Association. The record shows that this church held regular meetings until a part of the Civil War, when for a time no meetings were held, but immediately after the war the church was called together and proceeded as before. Some of the Moderators have been John Flanary, John Dixon, John A. Caudill, Samuel Maggard, James Maggard, Henry Day, Charles Blair, Dave Maggard, Wm. Scott, Riley Fouts and H. D. Caudill present moderator of the orthodox Oven Fork Church.

Some of the clerks have been James Webb, Nathan Hays, W. R. Collier, John Mullins, John R. Boggs, W. R. Boggs, E. H. Stidham, I. N. Lewis, W. C. Mullins, Silas Fouts, and H. L. Raleigh present clerk of the orthodox Oven Fork Church.

A grand old church with a fine record and by the help of the Almighty God, we who now live and represent the Orthodox side of the Old Oven Fork Church will carry on and consecrate our lives to the great cause of our Master as those who have finished their course and gone on to glory. That the Oven Fork Church may continue to be a city set upon a hill which cannot be hid. A home of peace and love for God's little children. Brethren and sisters; we have complied with all the advice given us. We love the Old Indian Bottom Association. We love her doctrine, we love her faith, we love her order. Our meeting time is on the fourth Saturday and Sunday in each month. Our Communion meeting is on the fourth Sunday in August. Our members are praying people. Come be with us once and we feel sure you will come again.

Your brother in hope of eternal life.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

INTERNATIONAL
UNIFORM SERIES

—By—
Rev. C. A. Lingle, Jr.

AUGUST 14, 1955

LESSON VERSES: Daniel 1, 5. (To be read and studied in your Bible).
PRINTED SCRIPTURE: Daniel 5:17-29.

For some reason the Christians of today seem to be trying to shield their faith from any critical examination and yet the truth is that anything that is untested is worthless. Trial is the element that ascertains value. Character is developed only as it meets and overcomes tests.

Daniel became the strong character that he was by meeting and overcoming many trials. He was raised in a heathen society. Temptation was constantly being cast at his feet. Particularly was this heathenism and vile temptation strong to him because having been taken into exile so young, he had no recollection of the Holy Land to bolster his morals. In reality he was a non conformist. The society about him was evil. He was alone, so to speak, against the world. Though he needed encouragement, he didn't get it. All alone he was able to fight and win his battles for personal morality and integrity.

As is always the case whether we are willing to recognize it or not, the battle was more than a personal one. He must have felt that he was completely alone, that the situation was hopeless, that he was fighting an enemy too strong to overcome.

It was not true and it never is. Though it started as a personal issue as a man against the world, God stepped in and became the source of strength. Though a person may start a battle alone, if right is on his side he never stays alone long. Too many people are content to drift with the current whether it be right or wrong. Too few are willing to stand alone and fight for what is right in the eyes of God.

"God is not mocked." A majority does not make a right nor a minority a wrong, but what is more important, a majority does not make a victory.

FROM THE PAGES OF
THE NATION'S HISTORY
COME THE STORIES OF

KENTUCKY'S HISTORIC SHRINES

Cumberland Gap, Kentucky's Gateway to the West for America's pioneers, opened up a great new world for the nation's early settlers who followed Daniel Boone into Kentucky.

Historic shrines stand today in many Kentucky communities, commemorating the lives of great men and the stirring events which were a part of the historic story of Kentucky. Many highways follow historic trails. This luxuriant country, which was both "Happy Hunting Ground" and "Dark and Bloody Ground" to the Indians, became the earliest promised land for the pioneers from the East. The history of Kentucky makes up much of the early history of the nation, and the nation's history is filled with the deeds of men who were first Kentuckians. The deeds and men of this history are memorialized in state parks, shrines and museums throughout the state. To the studios or to the casually interested observer of history, Kentucky is an exciting museum, an inspirational and unforgettable center of historic action.

Mrs. Hunt, 49, Is Starting on 4-Year Course at Pikeville

Pikeville, Ky., Aug. 10 — Even though it took her 34 years to get through high school, Mrs. Joe Hunt, Delbarton, W. Va., isn't discouraged.

She took 30 years of that time off to get married and raise a family of eight children, the youngest of whom is now an 11-year-old sixth-grader.

With almost a full summer's college work already behind her since finishing high school last May, Mrs. Hunt, 49, is starting on a four-year course which will lead to a high-school teacher's certificate. "I've wanted to go back to school ever since I left it," she says, "and then a few years ago I read in a newspaper column the advice that a middle-aged person should find a hobby, or return to school. So here I am."

The wife of a Mingo County, W. Va., coal miner and mother of three boys and five girls, she enrolled in Pikeville Junior College shortly after her graduation from Burch, W. Va., high school. She had re-entered the school in 1953, just 30 years after leaving to be married at the end of her sophomore year.

Mrs. Hunt expects to finish a third of a year's work in the ten-week summer session, Pikeville's last as a two-year college, and enroll as an advanced freshman this fall. She will be one of the first to enter the expanding college, which will open third-year courses next month in preparation for offering four full years of work in September, 1956. Pikeville's first degree-granting commencement is scheduled for the spring of 1957.

Surface mining of coal is the nation's biggest materials-handling industry, annually producing more than 100 million tons of coal and removing more than a billion cubic yards of overburden.

BIBLE QUIZ

A. F. BARKER

Q. What was the greatest promise God ever held out to mankind?

A. THE PROMISE OF ETERNAL LIFE. "For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life." (John 3:16)

Q. Is there anything more important in the whole world than making preparation for eternal life?

A. THERE IS NOTHING AT ALL MORE IMPORTANT. "For what is a man profited if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" (Matthew 16:26)

Q. Said the "rich young ruler" when he came running to Jesus and kneeled down before him, "how may I inherit eternal life?" A. Said Jesus, "Sell what you have, give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come follow me." (Matthew 19:16-21)

Q. How did this saying affect the young man?

A. "But when the young man heard that saying, he went away sorrowful; for he had great possessions." (Matthew 19:23)

Q. What was the greatest event of all time?

A. THE RESURRECTION OF JESUS CHRIST. "For he must reign, till he has put all enemies under his feet. The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death." I Corinthians 15:25-26. Q. What was the ministry of Jesus during the forty days he was on earth after the resurrection?

A. "He instructed the apostles in the things pertaining to the kingdom of God." (Acts 1:3)

Q. Why was it necessary for Jesus to go back to heaven?

A. "It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I got not away, the Comforter will not come unto you; but if I depart, I will send him unto you." (John 16:7)

Q. Ten days later, "when Pentecost had fully come," that is, the end of the 50th day, what evidence do we have of the powerful and effective preaching of the Apostle, Peter?

A. "Then they that gladly received his word were baptized: and the same day there were added unto them about three thousand souls." (Acts 2:41)

Cool Off

How are you taking these hot days? Some of them have really been scorers, but there are a few tricks you can use to cool off a bit.

Most of us have learned in school that evaporation is a cooling process. That means if we perspire, the evaporation will be slightly cooling. On real hot days, wet a cap for the children to wear. This will keep the head from getting so hot.

More salt should be used during hot weather as so much is lost from the body through perspiration. Another thing — drink plenty of water.

The Garden

Do you have greens in your garden during the winter? It sure is nice to pick a basket of greens in the winter time, when other plants look so dead. Green, leafy and yellow vegetables are our sources of Vitamin A, but it is too often neglected in our winter diets. To be better fed, have winter greens and cover crop seed packages made up in the office at cost. Come in and get yours.

Control That Mildew

This summer's hot, muggy weather is especially favorable for the growth molds that cause mildew. Although molds are always present in the air, they flourish rapidly in places that are damp, poorly lighted, and poorly aired, such as cellars, clothes closets or in basement recreation rooms. Mildew will grow on anything — Cotton, wood, linen, paper, leather or wool.

To Prevent The Growth of Mildew — Mrs. Gladys Morris, Home Management Specialist at the University of Kentucky, has these suggestions:

1. In warm, damp weather, keep doors and windows closed during the day, ventilating at night when outside air is cooler.
2. Burn a small electric light continuously in a closet, or run an electric fan in the doorway occasionally to stir up the air.
3. Dry worn garments and household articles before they are tossed into a clothes basket.
4. Sprinkle only as many clothes as can be ironed in a day; shake out and dry unironed ones, or store them in a plastic bag in the refrigerator.
5. Protect tops and soles of shoes and leather bags with a good paste wax.
6. If mildew has a start, heat the house for a short time with the furnace or stove, then open the doors and windows and force the warmed air out with an electric fan.
7. Open containers of calcium chloride in closets or storage places will take up moisture from the air. This will cause the calcium chloride to become liquid, when it must be replaced with a fresh supply.
8. If the basement develops a musty odor, sprinkle chloride of lime over the floor and let it remain until the mustiness disappears. Then sweep, mop and dry the floor.

disappears. Then sweep, mop and dry the floor.

Schedule:

Monday evening, August 15, Whitesburg Jr. Homemakers will have their picnic at the home of Mrs. Jack Cox, at 7:00. Thursday, Aug. 18, the Camp Branch-Colson Club will meet at 10:00 at Alvin Amburgey's for their picnic.

The County Annual Meeting cannot be held in August as planned, as there is a district clothing trends training meeting scheduled for the same day, and August is full of special meetings which will prevent scheduling the Annual Meeting this month. I am trying to make plans to schedule it in September.

Recipe of the Week:

Summer squash with its delicate flavor makes a delicious vegetable ring served in combinations with buttered lima beans, peas, and small white onions or creamed mushrooms. Mrs. Pearl Haak, specialist in foods at the University of Kentucky, says to force the cooked squash thru a coarse sieve before measuring it for the recipe.

Baked Squash Ring

3 Cups cooked summer squash
1/4 cup melted butter
1/4 cup milk
3 eggs well beaten
1 teaspoon salt
One-eighth teaspoon pepper
1/4 cup buttered crumbs
1 tablespoon onion

Cut up washed, unpeeled squash and cook covered in a small amount of water until tender. Force through coarse sieve. Add other ingredients, blend well and turn into well greased ring mold. Set ring in a pan of hot water and bake at 350 degrees or until inserted knife comes out clean.

To remove squash ring, place serving dish over the ring, then turn dishes quickly. Fill center with buttered limas or other vegetable.

Menu: Cold baked ham, squash ring with lima beans, sliced tomatoes, biscuits, butter and green apple pie.
